

I oppose changing the current net neutrality rules. It is essential to free speech that we preserve a level playing field on the internet.